GRIEVED HIS MOTHER.

Wayward Son Held For Uttering a Worthless Check.

IS WANTED AT LOUISVILLE.

William Botta, a Member of a Prominent Kentucky Family, Attempts to Get Money From a Bank in a Fraudulent Manner.

New York, Sept. 6.—William Botta of Louisville, Ky., who was arrested for having uttered a worthless check in Philadelphia, was arraigned in police court. He was committed to the Tombs to await the arrival of requisition papers from Kentucky.

The alleged bad check was on the Louisville Trust company, and was for $35, and was made payable to Frank C. Benjamin of Philadelphia. Botta is said to be the son of the owner of the Louisville baseball club. His mother, who was sent for when Botta was arrested, was in court. She talked with him for a few minutes and then burst into tears. She accompanied her son to the prison.

In court Botta said that he had been in the habit of drawing checks against the Louisville Trust company, although he never had an account there. He would wire to his father that he had drawn a check and his father would make it good. The money in the present case was sent on by him, he said, to his first wife, who failed to deposit it as he had directed.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION.

Separate Wage Scales to Be Formulated For Each Mine.

Pittsburg, Sept. 6.—Expectations are high in coal-mining circles over the probable resumption of work in the mines throughout the country.

In anticipation of a settlement at Columbus next Wednesday another plan has been suggested by a representative of one of the largest operators, which will be adopted immediately after the men return to work.

It will be formulated and submitted to the joint convention of operators and miners, which it is proposed to hold next December. In order to come to an understanding on all questions at issue separate wage scales are to be formulated for each mine.

The scale is to provide for the rate to be paid for the entire year, and any special concessions that are to be made are to be agreed upon by the miners and the operators and so specified in the scale. The scale is to be an adjunct to the uniformity agreement which is expected to be in force.

The proposition will be made by the operators in the hope of putting all the safeguards possible against a probable strike. It is well known that there are no two mines in the entire district where the conditions are exactly alike. The uniformity agreement covers the general points, but even with it in existence some operators would be subjected to difficulties, while others would have special advantages. The scale is to cover all these points, the primary object being to avert differences, create a more friendly feeling between the employers and the employees, and restore perfect harmony throughout the district.

Phillip Stambaugh, a cousin of President McKinley and a partner in the firm of Osborne, Sager & Company, was in Pittsburg. He said the men formerly employed in the Bolinas mine on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad would be asked to go to work at the 65-cent rate. He was not prepared to say how many men would go to work.

SCHOONER SUNK.

A Cargo of Cannon Balls Ran to the Bottom.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 6.—The three-masted schooner Agnes I. Grace of Bangor, Me., capsized and sank 20 miles east of Tybee. Her crew came ashore in a boat and landed at Wareham island. The schooner Grace sailed from New York Aug. 23 with a cargo of salt for Savannah and four 10-ton guns for the Tybee fortifications.

All down the coast she was driven by a fierce northeaster and on Saturday night she came off Tybee, laboring heavily in the gale.

An effort was made to bring her to and save her from being driven farther to the southward, but when she was brought to the wind and began to lash in the heavy sea, the big guns which formed part of her deck load drifted loose from their lashings and took possession of the deck.

The crew was driven to the rigging and the iron monsters plunged about as the vessel heaved in the sea, making every effort to recapture them almost certain death. About 9 o'clock in the morning an unusually heavy swell tossed all four guns into the port scupper and the vessel heeled under the immense weight, tried to right, but staggered as the green water broke fiercely in over the bulwarks. She capsized and sank.

Captain Farrar and his crew, consisting of seven men, succeeded in manning the ship's boat after much difficulty, and rowed away from her just as she went down.

Weyler's Edict Results in a Slaughter of Cattle.

POINTS ABOUT CUBAN WAR.

The Rate of Mortality Among the Refugees Is Great—Thirty-Seven Out of Every One Thousand Soldiers Die.

Havana, Sept. 6.—A wealthy merchant named Blas Canales has been arrested in Puerto Principe charged with political offenses.

A party of insurgents recently made an attack on Puerto Principe del Valle, near Sababo, in the province of Pinar del Rio. The garrison made a stout resistance, but the insurgents set fire to a house near the walls of the fort, which took fire, compelling the garrison to retire with the loss of six men killed.

Two brothers named Porillo made a stand behind a tree and were reinforced by a number of their comrades. After sharp fighting the insurgents were driven off with the loss of four killed and six wounded.

It is reported that a group of insurgents attacked and entered the town of Janaguanay also, near Remedios, where they sacked several stores and burned a number of houses. It is also reported that the insurgents have fired upon Guira Melena, in Havana province.

During the month of August 500 persons died in Guines from epidemic diseases. All of the victims, with one exception, were Cubans. The rate of mortality among the refugees is very great, and the same is true regarding the troops. The mortality due to yellow fever, malaria and dysentery is excessive. It is estimated that 27 out of every thousand sick soldiers throughout the island die.

It is stated from 20 to 25 deaths occur on each trip of the steamers which carry the sick and disabled troops from Cuba to Spain. The bodies of those who die en route are thrown overboard. Three deaths occurred on one of the steamers recently before she left port.

Captain General Weyler returned to Havana greatly disgusted because of the erroneous interpretation of his edict referring to the gathering of cattle, large numbers of oxen and cows having been slaughtered in consequence of the misunderstanding of his orders. During his recent tour General Weyler deposed the mayors of several towns and sent various military commanders to Cuban castles. At Guines and other towns he caused the release from custody of a number of merchants and reconcentrados who had been falsely accused.

Captain General Weyler has issued an order prohibiting the planting of tobacco within the boundaries of the military elevated zone. He declares that if the reconcentrados die from hunger the mayors of the towns will be to blame for their deaths, because of their negligence in carrying out his instructions.

Seven hundred members of the municipal fire brigade have returned to this city from Majana trocha. Many of them were ill and all were disgusted. An attack was made recently by insurgents upon Fort Santa Ursula, province of Santiago de Cuba, with no other result than to cause great alarm among the residents.

The last mail steamer brought final instructions to the authorities regarding the establishment of the new tariff.

The last mail steamer brought final instructions to the authorities regarding the establishment of the new tariff.

Great anxiety is felt among all classes as to whether the alterations in the tariff will end the ruinous losses to the revenues of the island resulting from the protection granted to merchandise imported from Spain.

The customs receipts on rice and corn for the four months from March to June inclusive were $400,000 less than for the corresponding period last year.

Arrested For Murder.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 6.—John Taylor, cook at the Sefton mine, has been arrested by a detective at Sandon for the murder of a sheriff in Arkansas four years ago while resisting arrest for cattle stealing, and taken to Nelson, where officers are awaiting him. He took his arrest very coolly, and made the following statement that he had been expecting to be arrested, but not for murder.

Death of a Railroad President.

New York, Sept. 6.—Benjamin Brewster, president of the Rockford and Des Moines railroad, died at his summer home in Cazenovia, N. Y., aged 53 years. In 1893 he went to California, where he remained in business for 15 years. He was closely associated with John D. Rockefeller in the establishment of the Standard Oil company.

A GREAT INDIFFERENCE.

On Luetgert's Part Concerning His Wife's Fate.

NEVER INQUIRED FOR HER.

The Chicago Sausage Maker Who Is on Trial For His Life Will Take the Witness Stand in His Own Behalf.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—The indifference of Luetgert after his wife had disappeared was the principal fact brought out against him.

It was shown by the testimony of Police Captain Herman Schuetzler that Luetgert did not show any concern regarding his wife, and never took the trouble to ask the police whether they had found any trace of her or not. On one occasion he called at the police station to protest against an article in a daily paper, saying that his first wife had not died a natural death.

The police at this time were dragging the river, poking into a lay hole and patrolling the lake shore in the hope of finding some trace of the missing woman, but Luetgert, after he had complained of the paper, left the station without even asking if the police had found any trace of his wife.

When the police first became aware of the disappearance of Mrs. Luetgert through her brother, they asked Luetgert what theory he had regarding her disappearance, and he said that in his opinion she had become insane and had wandered away from home.

He had not reported her going away either to the police or his neighbors, because he said it was a disgrace to have an insane wife, and he did not want people to know anything about it. Captain Schuetzler said that in all the work the police did on the case never received any help or suggestions from the husband and he never seemed to care whether they found her or not.

Luetgert announced that he intended to take the stand and testify in his own behalf. He said that he had talked the matter over with his attorneys and that they had suggested that he should do so. He said that he would tell all about his actions on the nights preceding the disappearance of his wife and would convince the jury that he had done nothing wrong. The interest in the case increases every day and it was a most responsible for the court officials and the attorneys to force their way through the crowd that blocked the hallway.

Two Candidates Omitted.

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—The state executive committee of the Jeffersonian or gold Democrats decided by a vote of 17 to 10 not to place any candidates in the field for state treasurer and auditor general. This decision was arrived at after a general conference of the state committee and a large number of prominent gold Democrats from all parts of the state, which recommended to the state committee that a ticket be placed in the field.

McKenna's Task.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Attorney General McKenna is devoting much of his time this week to the preparation of his decision of the question involved in the interpretation of section 22 of the tariff law relating to international duties. He is examining all the authorities and carefully studying all the precedents, in order to see that the decision will be fully and fairly made.

Cinderella's fairy god-mother, with one touch of her magic wand, transformed the maiden's rags and tatters into the richest silks and satins. There are thousands of young women to-day who need a fairy god-mother who will touch them with the wand of health. A girl's best gift is her health. Every girl may be a healthy girl and become a healthy wife and a capable mother, if she will but take the proper care of herself in a womanly way. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for all women, young or old. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine. It promotes regularity of their functions.
